Notes

> i have been hollanov pilled but i am too scared to try and write an actual fic yet for fear of making them too ooc so this is my contribution to the fandom for the time being :D
> i hope you enjoy this mess!! if you don't i'll look incredibly jobless and chronically online so please for the love of god if you don't understand what's going on spare my ego and just exit out of the fic, thanks!
> title is from deeply still in love by role model!!

"When it comes to roles like this, I think it's very important to be authentic, and to lean into capturing every part of the character's identity. The market for queer films and media is expanding, which is incredible, but that also means that it's even more crucial that each character be portrayed realistically, rather than fantastically."

"In Russia I did not get to see people like us in the media when I was growing up, so every time I am given the opportunity to play a role like this, I am reminded that there are people in places who need to see this; who do not get to see it out in public just because of where they live, but who deserve to see themselves represented in a positive light."
